YOUR GENEROSITY AT WORK: A THANKSGIVING UPDATE
November 2026

Dear Friends, Supporters and Oak Tree Family Members,

As Thanksgiving approaches, Abby and I want to thank you for making Oak Tree Family Fund's work possible. Your generosity has helped us support 40 organizations to date, expanding access to mental health care, education and resources that strengthen communities.

Supporting Mental Health and Well-Being
Together, we have helped send 110 children affected by HIV/AIDS to a therapeutic camp, funded counseling for adolescents at three clinics in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, and supported organizations in Connecticut and Maine that provide counseling to people affected by cancer.

Creating Educational Opportunities
We believe a strong educational foundation supports well-being and opens doors. This year, we have contributed to child care programs and schools providing private education to children from families living below the poverty line, including some who have experienced homelessness. We have also supported children's programs at two libraries, one in a small village in Botswana.

Strengthening Communities
Your donations support food banks, a coffee shop that employs adults with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities, and Windham & Windsor Housing Trust's affordable housing work. We have also contributed to land trusts, recognizing the value of public open space in connecting communities.

Encouraging a New Chapter
Two years ago, through Transforming Lives, we met Hector, who had spent nearly 30 years in a New York State prison. After his release, he received a fellowship at Yale University. We have since helped fund his pursuit of a master's degree and watched him flourish, maintaining a 4.0 grade point average.

Honoring Your Trust
Abby and I receive no salary, operate without a separate office and keep expenses modest while paying for necessary services, including part-time bookkeeping and accounting. Our IRS Form 990 is publicly available for anyone who would like to review our finances.

Growing Our Impact Together
As we look toward the new year, we are identifying additional opportunities to support organizations that use their resources responsibly and make a meaningful difference. Please learn about our partners and read their testimonials.

We invite you to continue this work with a donation to Oak Tree Family Fund. Every contribution matters. As we like to say, “Crumbs make up the loaf.”
